

19th May 2022

Dear Valued Customer, Supplier, and Business Partner

We are pleased to announce with effect from 11th May 2022 AMG Superalloys UK Limited (“AMG SA”) has been renamed AMG Chrome Limited. The registered company number, registered address and VAT registration number remain the same.

As a member of AMG Advanced Metallurgical Group N.V. (www.amg-nv.com), our new name reflects AMG’s goal to provide clarity to investors and customers on what each of its subsidiaries’ specialties are.

Any existing contracts you have with AMG SA will be unaffected and we will continue to fulfil the contract obligations using the same people, processes and plant.

The only change to our bank details will be our company name.

All emails addresses will be changed from @amg-s.com to @amg-chrome.com and after a period of time the @amg-s.com addresses will be discontinued. For key e-mails addresses to credit control & accounts payable, please see below the new e-mail addresses:

Submission of electronic invoices & queries: purchaseinvoices@amg-chrome.com

Credit control enquiries & remittances: creditcontrol@amg-chrome.com

Further information about AMG Chrome can be found on our website, www.amg-chrome.com. The website will be rebranded shortly.

We look forward to continuing to work together in partnership with you.

Please feel free to connect with your usual contact within our organisation with any questions you may have.

Yours sincerely,
For and on behalf of AMG Chrome Limited
